Rebecca shared the same thing with me. I am calling her later this afternoon so she can read me the section that originally included charters so we can all put our minds at ease. She said the word "charter" does not show up at all.

I have gotten nothing. Burton called me today. He confirmed everything that you just shared. He didn't offer nor did I specifically ask to see language. But I did stress how continued engagement with our side is important to make sure people have no heartburn with the language.

in the spirit of keeping aligned..... I got a call from Rebecca 30 minutes ago to circle back on event details for Thursday. She has been ill and out of the loop for a couple of days, so I told her we were hoping to confirm language - and that ed reform orgs were pending engagement hinging on ensuring charters weren't thrown under the bus. She confirmed that 'charter specific language has been stripped' but she doesn't want to send over email and they are REALLY paranoid about leaks. She said they will talk about transparency and accountability of district schools and quality for all. Also they're not targeting a huge parent mobilization as originally desired, though they still want a friendly audience. Have they shared the language with you, Jed/Cassie? If they won't send it, perhaps Glenn can READ it to you?

Hi Glenn,

Spoke with Austin last night after his conversation with Jed Wallace of CCSA. Austin thought he was very articulate on issues of transparency and accountability and how that affects charters and traditional schools.

Austin was hoping that you could arrange a conference call with me, you and Shira (who is writing Austin's speech) to essentially get him to walk through how he thinks Austin should be talking about transparency and accountability.

Do you think it's possible to do a call tomorrow and if not, Monday?

cc'ing Rebecca in case she wants to join the call.

Thanks Glenn!!
